

Tina Byrne

JCT Visual Art Team, in collaboration with Arts in Junior Cycle, are delighted to present a JCT Talks podcast entitled, 'Conversation with...'

Ceramicist, lecturer and committee member of Ceramics Ireland, Tina Byrne, shares her creative journey, influences and processes as well as the challenges and joys of working in clay.

Podcast | Reflection Questions

Click to play episode

After listening, you may find some of the following reflection questions useful.

 00:00 - 08:02 | Inspirations and Influences

- As you listened, did any point surprise you?
- Tina discusses how she develops artefacts in clay. How do you develop your ideas?

 08:03 - 23:17 | Makers and Making

- What advice does Tina give when documenting three dimensional work?
- What might we consider when curating a display or exhibition?
- Tina refers to many of the things which inspire her. Who or what inspires you?

 23:18– 28:46 | Reflections

- What strategies do you use when you get stuck creatively?
- What might we learn from something going wrong?
- What advice would you give your younger self?

Podcast available on Junior Cycle Talks podcast channel

